THE CONFEREES DISCUSS BILL

And Dispose of Twenty-Two of the Minor Amendments

ACCEPTING OR REJECTING

DISCUSSION OF LONGWORTH'S AMEND-MENT TO CONSULAR BILL

Senator Penrose Said That the Abuses of Second Class Mail Privilege Is Colossal.

Washington, May 30.—When the conferees on the rate bill adjourned at the conclusion of a session every amendment in the bill had been gone over. More than a score of amendments have been disposed of, either by acceptance or rejection, the indication being that most of them have been accepted. The important amendments are still subjects of consideration and the indications are that a speedy agreement cannot be hoped for. The express company amendment is still disagreed to, the pipe line amendment is also one of those unsettled. Likewise the amendment forbidding common carriers ownership in producing properties, the "Jim Crow" car amendment is also in dispute; also the pass amendment and that relative to the size of the commission.

During the consideration of the diplomatic and consular bill in the house an interesting debate was had on the amendment proposed by Mr. Longworth (O.) to appropriate $1,000,000 for the acquisition in foreign capitals of proper sites and buildings for the embassies and legations of the United States for the residences of ambassadors and ministers to foreign countries. Mr. Longworth, in urging his amendment, which went out on a point of order, insisted that by providing residences for our ambassadors the question of rent would be eliminated. He said this was now the largest necessary expense. With a residence provided by the government a man of moderate means could live in a dignified way on his salary. All other nations, he said, either own their own residences or allow liberally for rent. Mr. Shirley (Ky.) discussed "the wasteful extravagance and the outrageous and un-American method of living of some of our representatives abroad."

He spoke of the representative of the second-class mail system, which was begun by Senator Bailey in connection with the consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill. He stated that the bulk of the second-class matter had grown to such an extent as to require an appropriation of $27,000,000, and contended that the people who read the magazines and papers should pay this expense, not the people at large. He said that the cost of their transportation could not be begrudged, but protested against making the non-Christian taxpayer share the expense of their distribution. Senator Penrose agreed with the Texas senator, saying that "the abuse of the second-class mail privileges are becoming so colossal as to startle the imagination and even our credulity." He said that the present bill carried $192,000,000, and predicted that in a few years the amount necessary to meet the demands would be double that amount. Indeed, he predicted that the time would come within the legislative lives of present senators when the appropriation for the postoffice department would not be less than $500,000,000. He also spoke of the increase in the west of the rural delivery service, and summing up predicted that unless the original purpose of the second-class system is restored it will operate to break down the entire postal system. He said that much of the expense is due to the excessive weight of advertising matter carried by the periodicals, while much of the reading matter was feeble and ineffective.

ATTACK PLANNED ON THE AIKIN LAW

Attorneys Contend That Governor
Pattison is Part of the General Assembly.

Columbus, May 30.—Ground has been laid for a test of the validity of the Aikin law increasing the duty tax to $1000 a year. At Cincinnati Monday Cohen & Mack tendered to C. C. Richardson and August Herman, the auditor and treasurer, $175, on behalf of a saloonkeeper there, for a license—that being half the amount for a year under the old law, making it $350 a year. It was of course, refused. This lays the foundation for the suit.

Cohen & Mack claim that it is not sufficient that the governor have a bill passed by the legislature and submitted to him. He must read it and consider it. The veto amendment

10,000 GALLONS OF WATER THRO' THE SKYLIGHT

Department Store Panic Ensued in Which Women Were Trampled in New York.

New York, May 30.—By the collapse of a tank on the roof of Adams & Co.'s dry goods store in Sixth avenue, followed by a panic among customers and clerks, nearly a score of persons, mostly women, were more or less seriously injured yesterday afternoon. The store was crowded with customers when the tank, owing to the giving away of supports, toppled over on a dome skylight covering a central court, precipitating 10,000 gallons of water and a shower of broken glass on the main floor. A number of clerks and customers were cut by fragments of glass and other debris and a panic ensued in which hundreds of women made frenzied efforts to reach the street in the belief that an earthquake had occurred and the building was about to fall. In the rush many were knocked down and trampled on.

Frankfort, Ky., May 30.—Congressman South Trimble of the Seventh Kentucky district announced that he will not be a candidate this year for the party nomination for re-election.

12 FAINTED WHILE FLAMES WERE RAGING

Roof Fell Into Burning School Building
Yet None of the Inmates
Was Hurt.

Port Huron, Mich., May 30.—Just in the middle of the afternoon session of the school yesterday when the building was filled with 400 pupils and teachers, the Port Huron high school caught fire. Despite the fact that hardly 15 minutes elapsed between the first alarm and the falling of the roof, teachers and pupils all escaped without injury and pupils fire escapes furnished a means of exit for many who were on the upper floor. Although the fire spread so rapidly that there was need for the most urgent haste in emptying the doomed building there was no panic whatever. Twelve girls and women fainted and had to be carried to safety, but none was injured. The building was an old two story brick structure that burned like tinder. The fire started at the bottom of a flue running from top to bottom of the building for the purpose of carrying waste paper to the basement. The building was completely destroyed. Loss $50,000, fully insured.

IN SOUTHWEST Coal Mines May Soon Be Reopened. A Conference.

Kansas City, Mo., May 30.—A subcommittee appointed by the coal operators and miners in conference here submitted propositions from Southwestern Interstate Coal Operators' association to the miners that may result in reopening the mines in Kansas, Arkansas, Missouri and Indian Territory by June 10, 1906. The subcommittee recommends that the miners return to work on the 1901 scale and that a commission of three miners and three operators and one referee be selected by the conference shall consider and settle all matters embraced in the operators' proposition. This committee is to report to a joint conference in Kansas City not later than June 30.

TO THE RHYTHM OF THE DRUM I COULD SIT AND LISTEN EVER

[Copyright, 1906, by Stacy E. Baker.]

O the rhythm of the drum
I could sit and listen ever;
Though my blood
is stirred to life
By the cadence
Of the life,
Best I love the thrilling madness
And the joyousness and gladness
Of the rhythm of the drum.

O H, the rhythm of the drum
Conjures up a mighty battle.
See the swords that flash and rattle,
Hear the booming of the guns,
See the bleeding, dying ones,
Ah, the bullet's lyric minor,
All attuned to war is finer
With the rhythm of the drum.

AND the rhythm of the drum
Lured a boy from loving mother,
Separated sister, brother,
Dragged a careless lad away—
Made a man of him, they say.
I just tell you what they told me
At his grave beneath the old tree.
Oh, the rhythmic siren drum.

TO the rhythm of the drum
Marched a man with pulses quickened,
Though the heart within him sickened
At the blood about to flow;
And a wife, with cheeks aglow,
Bade him courage from their dwelling,
While her eyes with tears were welling
To the rhythm of the drum.

TO the rhythm
of the drum,
Out of grave
and shallow basin Arms shall arise and hasten
On to gates ajar; the gray sailing time with blue
that day.
On the resurrection dawning
Graves of soldiers shall be yawning
To the rhythm
of the drum.

MADE A CANNON

To Fire Memorial Day—One Boy
Killed and Two Others Badly Injured.

Anderson, Ind., May 30.—Ten year old Fred Moore, son of Dr. John R. Moore, was killed and two of his companions, Fred Ellison and Irwin Fisher, were slightly injured by the explosion of a cannon they rigged up and were firing at Laurel last evening.

Part of a shotgun barrel, plugged at one end and spiked to a block of wood, on wheels, constituted the cannon with which the surviving lad said they were going to fire Memorial Day salutes today. They were practicing with it last evening.

The second shot exploded the gun barrel and a spike was driven through young Moore's chest. It bored a great hole in his breast.

The dying boy made his last run to his home, but fell dead on the street.

LANGUISHED

In a Freight Car Without Food For Three Weeks and Jacob Died
When Flood.

Pottsville, Tenn., May 30.—Reduced from 175 to 60 pounds, a meek skeleton, John Jacob, 35 years old, who was locked up in a freight car for three weeks without food or drink died at the county jail house yesterday.

Yacob, during the recent colliery suspension, went in search of work. When the mines reopened he endeavored to get back to work and climbed into the car to get transportation. He was locked in, unknown to the railroad men.

Where he boarded the car is not known, but a tickle was found in his pocket, marked "G. E. and Co.," and made out. When the car was opened he was found lying on his back, his head on the floor, his eyes closed. He was so thin that the skin was drawn over his bones like parchment.

FOUND GUILTY AND ALL FINED

Bridge Trust Companies are Charge With Conspiracy

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY

COURT LIKELY TO TAKE ACTION ON GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

Boy's and Girl's Tragic Death—
Smallpox at Bellaire—Ohio
News Briefs.

Norwalk, O., May 30.—A jury in criminal court returned a verdict of guilty against seven bridge companies for restraint of trade. The seven bridge agents indicted for conspiracy against trade were also found guilty. The companies were fined $300 and costs each and five agents $250 and costs each. Henry Hughes, who was recently fined in Erie county, was fined $125 and costs. The companies and agents found guilty are W. N. Cleveland, H. G. Hammond, Henry Hughes, W. H. Lyons, J. H. Hilton, W. C. Laiblin, Canton Bridge company, Massillon Bridge company, the Bellefontaine Bridge & Iron company and the Brackett Bridge company.

Sensational testimony was given by Adams E. Adams, Jr., of the firm of Adams Brothers company, bridge builders of Findlay. Adams said that there had been a pooling agreement among the bridge companies for bidding for the contract for a bridge in Putnam county in 1903; that his company secured the contract and that it paid "certain persons" $1,300 to be divided among the different bridge companies.

Up to the Court.—Prosecuting Attorney Carl Hinkle, when asked as to the result of the investigation into the Ohio Central railway ouster case and the report made by the jury, said any future development will have to be instituted by the court, and he is ready to prosecute any case brought. Judge Tobias, who authorized the investigation, may take some action, and it is possible that the circuit court may act on the ground that the attorneys abused their relationship with the court in not submitting the entry in the case before spreading it upon the journal.

Boy's Tragic Death.
Sidney, O., May 30.—John, the 13-year-old son of John Shearer, while leading a horse to water, tied the hitching strap around his waist. The horse became frightened and ran, dragging young Shearer around the barnyard and tramping on him. The horse also ran through a gate, dashing Shearer's head against the post, crushing his skull, causing his death in a few minutes.

Head Blown Off.
Marietta, O., May 30.—While playing with an old shotgun supposed to be empty the weapon was discharged and 13-year-old Bessie Dalton, daughter of Isaac Dalton, a well-to-do farmer of Rain Bow, Washington county, was instantly killed. Bernice the 11-year-old brother of the girl, died the shooting and the charge of the gun tore the back part of her head entirely away.

Burned to Death.
Dillonvale, O., May 30.—Edward Neely of Portland, O., and John E. Singer of Bryant, O., were burned to death near here. The men, together with 20 fellow workers, occupied box cars as sleeping quarters while engaged in making repairs on the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad. The fire started from an overheated stove. Three cars were consumed.

Girl Committed Suicide.
Dayton, O., May 30.—The body of Miss Bertha Montgomery, 21, who had committed suicide, was found in Stillwater. She had taken carbolic acid before leaping into the water and her face was badly burned. A note pinned in her hat contained this message: "Goodbye, everybody." The girl was greatly esteemed.

Boat Overturned.
Wooster, O., May 29.—Frederick Bartram of Shreve was drowned while fishing in Brown lake near that village. The boat in which Bartram, father Erhard and Ernest Bruce were fishing, upset while Bartram was casting a line. Bruce was able to swim and Erhard was rescued by a farmer.

For Webber.
Mr. Glead, O. May 30. Republican of Marion county, elected delegates to the Fourteenth district congressional convention which meets in Mansfield. While unrepresented the 18 delegates are all Webber men. It was the largest convention of this kind ever held here.

Lima Hospital Trustee.
Columbus, O., May 30.—George E. Whitney of Union county has been appointed a trustee of the Lima State hospital. The board is bi-partisan and Mr. Whitney, who is a Republican, is a banker of Marietta. His appointment completes the board, which is composed of six members.

Bishop Leonard's Views
Cleveland, O., May 30.—Bishop Leonard, in his address opening the annual convention of the Ohio diocese of the Episcopal church here, endorsed the action of the ecclesiastical court in the case of Rev. Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey. A clergyman, the bishop said, might hold any views he desired, but to remain a minister of the Episcopal church he must preach its doctrines and obey its rules. He said it was absurd that one preaching heretical doctrines should be allowed to remain in the church.

Disease Pronounced Smallpox.
Bellair, O., May 30.—Dr. A. J. Heintz, assistant to the state health officer in eastern Ohio, was called to St. Clairsville, Belmont county, this morning to investigate a disease said to be chickenpox, and he pronounced it smallpox. The whole town has been exposed to the disease.

Locomotive Starts Fire.
Lima, O., May 30.—Fire caused $5,000 loss at the yards of the Painesville Coal and Supply company. Sparks from a passing locomotive ignited the supply house, which was totally destroyed, with its contents, together with surrounding storage buildings.

No Saloons in Fayette County.
Washington C. H., O., May 30.—The local election at New Holland resulted in a victory for the "dry" by a majority of 26. A total of 362 votes were polled. This will practically wipe out all the saloons in Fayette county.

Post to Launch Morning Daily in Capital City.

Columbus, O., May 30.—A new morning daily paper will soon be launched in this city. C. C. Philbrick, formerly of the Press Post will be at the business helm. In political circles it is rumored that it is being founded to oppose the Ohio State Journal, which has, although Republican, been attacking sacred institutions of the party. The first issue is expected in about a month. Col. Philbrick who for years lived in Licking county, is well known in Newark.

CINDERS AND ASHES FROM VESUVIUS

Naples, May 29.—Another portion of the main crater of Mount Vesuvius fell in, causing a thick, black column of smoke to arise to a height of several hundred feet, compelling the sun and spreading ashes and cinders over the surrounding area. One more outburst was expected with cinders and ash falling on the city. The incident caused considerable alarm, especially because it was accompanied by several loud detonations and many persons left their homes. Professor Matteucci, director of the local observatory, who had returned to his post, ordered the watchmen who were clearing the roads to stop operations. The people were exhorted to remain calm and not to be alarmed by the phenomenon. The phenomenon was not considered dangerous.

MEXICAN VETERANS PARADE

GRAVES OF SOLDIERS DECORATED IN CEDAR HILL AND MT. CALVARY.

Yacht Races at Buckeye Lake—
Exercises Held at the Auditorium in the Afternoon.

*****
MEXICAN WAR VETERANS.
A carriage beautifully decorated with the colors of the Mexican war, occupied a position in the parade. In the carriage were Captain James H. Smith, Elias Dew, Daniel C. Darlington and Leonard Stelzer. Henry Fleming, another Mexican war veteran, failed to arrive in time to take a seat in the carriage. Captain Smith served in the Second Regiment of V. I., from Licking county. Elias Dew, the only Licking county survivor who boasts of being in the City of Mexico, was in the quartermaster's department under General Scott. Leonard Stelzer was in the Third Ohio Infantry, while Mr. Darlington was in Duncan's cavalry. Henry Fleming was in the Fifth Ohio Infantry.
Licking county furnished three companies of infantry for the Mexican war, and out of this number the five are left. Two of these men enlisted from other counties, but settled in or near Newark after the close of the war. Several served through the Civil war, but Mr. Dew remarked to a reporter that he saw enough war in Mexico, and did not care to go through the war of the Rebellion.
Mr. Dew said: "We're all over forty years old and yet my hair is not so gray after all." He removed his hat and displayed a thick head of hair but sparsely sprinkled with gray.

Memorial Day in Newark has been generally observed that it has been for a number of years, most of the business houses and many of the shops being closed. The most important part of the service, the actual decoration of the graves in Mt. Calvary and Cedar Hill cemeteries, with wreaths and flowers, by the surviving comrades, was faithfully carried out. Each veteran was faithfully carried out, notwithstanding the usual Decoration Day rain. Each veteran carried a bouquet of flowers and a wreath of evergreen in the procession, and tenderly and lovingly and reverentially they were placed upon the honored mounds that cover the Nation's sacred dead.
By 7 o'clock Wednesday morning the people began assembling on the streets and at 7:30 o'clock a detachment of old veterans, under command of Captain John Hiler, who has performed the duty for many years, proceeded to Mt. Calvary cemetery, where the graves of the dead heroes who are so quietly sleeping there, were covered with beautiful flowers.

It is the income of the dead to which the living have come. And once more the dead are alive in the memories of those who yet remain. And once more they are great in the minds of the living. One more outburst was expected with cinders and ash falling on the city. The incident caused considerable alarm, especially because it was accompanied by several loud detonations and many persons left their homes. Professor Matteucci, director of the local observatory, who had returned to his post, ordered the watchmen who were clearing the roads to stop operations. The people were exhorted to remain calm and not to be alarmed by the phenomenon. The phenomenon was not considered dangerous.

PACKING HOUSE INVESTIGATION

New York, May 29.—It became known today that Neill and Reynolds who investigated the Chicago stock yards and made an examination of the slaughter houses of this city, and found many conditions that duplicated those in Chicago packing houses.

Washington, May 29.—A special report to the President is now being prepared by Commissioner of Labor Neil and James Reynolds of New York, which will undoubtedly be made public by the President within the next few days. It will contain only the results of personal observation of these investigators at Packing Town, Chicago. They have submitted informally to the President a mass of testimony given by other persons. This is of such a sensational character that the President deems it best that Neil and Reynolds confine their written report to such part of it as they are able to corroborate by personal knowledge. Under this direction, therefore, the report when published, will be entirely in shape of first hand evidence. The investigation was as thorough as they could make it with the limited time at their disposal. It is understood that in the guise of laborers they visited portions of the packing houses not usually opened to visitors, and without espionage of the beef trust officials. In the elimination of all hearsay evidence, it is believed the report will be strengthened rather than weakened. At present the beef men are bending all their energies to the defeat of that part of the Beveridge bill which places the cost of the proposed inspection upon the packers. The agricultural department is strenuously opposed to the government being saddled with the expense.

Railroad Man's Prayer.

The Erie Railroad Employees' Magazine prints the following that was recently offered at a prayer meeting by an old railroad man:
"O Lord, now that I have flagged Thee, lift up my feet from the rough road of life and plant them safely on the deck of the train of salvation. Let me use the safety lamp known as prudence; make all the couplings in the train with the link of Thy Love; and, Heavenly Father, keep all switches closed that lead off the sidings, especially those with a blind end. O Lord, if it be Thy pleasure, have every semaphore block along the line show the white light of hope that I may make the run of life without stopping. And, Lord, give us the Ten Commandments for a schedule; and when I have finished the run on schedule time and pulled into the dark station of death, may Thou, the Superintendent of the Universe, say, 'Well done, thou good and faithful servant; come and sign the pay roll and receive your check for eternal happiness.'"

Auto Owners Protest.

Cambridge, May 30.—The owners of motor cars in Cambridge, 14 in all, are vigorously protesting against the ruling of the county commissioners that a toll of three cents a mile on the National pike shall be paid and that each driver shall register and leave his number with the keeper of the toll gate through which he passes. It is proposed by these owners who have no organization, but have a mutual understanding, that a test case be made in the near future on the grounds that the commissioners are not a legislative body and even if they were, the present toll is an unjust discrimination against the motor car and its owner.

A rate of two cents per mile is charged for carriages and the owners of automobiles hold, with good reason, that the wear and tear of the pike occasioned by a rubber tired machine is not to be compared with that of an ordinary carriage or wagon on which the lesser toll is placed.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivalled by Human Hair Where Dandruff Is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

GOVERNOR PATTISON

Sensational Articles in Certain Republican Newspapers Turn Out To Be Absolutely False.

The State Journal and certain other Republican newspapers yesterday contained sensational, as well as misleading statements concerning Governor Pattison, making the claim that he is incompetent to transact the official business of his office.

But this morning The State Journal practically backs down and reverses itself in the position it took yesterday by publishing what are pertinent and well-known facts pertaining to the Governor's office. The State Journal's last article follows: "Secretary Houck yesterday asserted that Governor Pattison is able to sign documents and does so."

"He cited instances wherein clerks in other departments signed the name of the head of the office, and said he knew what papers it was necessary for the governor to sign personally and what ones he might authorize a clerk to sign."

"Secretary Houck further said that the question of ability of the governor to sign his name was not raised in the Clark requisition case before Judge Dillon."

"Secretary Houck also appeared to be unable to perceive the pertinency of the suggestion that it was because of his failure to meet this issue in court that any doubt which there might be in the public mind regarding the ability of the governor, to sign his name or that he was not signing his name, had arisen."

"Many weeks ago The State Journal had reported the opinion of prominent lawyers that all that it was necessary to show to any court was that the governor had authorized a subordinate to sign for him; as such authorization would show that it was the act of the governor. One of Governor Pattison's appointees said yesterday that he believed Governor Pattison would have preferred that the issue had been met in court. Had Secretary Houck chosen to do so, he would have won the case, for he would have been able to show that the governor had given the necessary authority for signing his name in this appointee's judgment."

Rheumatism
Does not let go of you when you apply lotions or liniments. It simply loosens its hold for a while. Why? Because to get rid of it you must correct the acid condition of the blood on which it depends. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured thousands.

sary authority for signing his name in this appointee's judgment. "Secretary Houck said: 'On the occasion of my last visit to the governor last week, he signed 22 state papers after going over their contents personally. Does any one claim that all the other heads of executive departments sign all the papers that issue from their offices? Certainly not. That is what chief clerks are for.'"

"No defect was admitted as to the signature of the warrant in the Clark case. That was not raised as a question. I indicated to Mr. Murphy, the officer from Illinois, wherein his papers were defective, and if he will cure them the warrant will be issued."

"Chief Clerk Edward D. Howard of the secretary of state's office, said yesterday he signed numerous papers for Secretary Laylin and did so under a general authorization from the secretary of state."

"A requisition from the governor of Pennsylvania for C. L. Graham, wanted in Wayne county, that state, on the charge of performing a criminal operation, and under arrest at Strasburg, was honored yesterday at the office of Governor Pattison."

Every State official permits his name to be signed every day to documents of various kinds with the great seal of the State, and all the previous Governors have done the same. Yet not a word of objection was ever raised before, and the fact that it is done now on account of Governor Pattison's illness is very discreditable business.

Wide-spread comment is made by the press in regard to the threat of President Roosevelt to make public the government report on the disgusting conditions of the packing houses belonging to the meat trust. The consensus of opinion is that the President should cease making threats and give the country the real meat of the subject. If the sanitary condition of some of the great packing houses is as scandalous as reported and the government has official knowledge of the same, there is no excuse for not giving the facts to the public.

Rumors from Manchuria show that Japan is going slow in getting out of the province. Over 600,000 of the mikado's victorious troops are said to be yet in China or within easy call in Korea, while their chief concern is the improvement of military communication between the coast and the interior. Japan was so ruthlessly swindled out of her rightful advantages gained in the war with China that her attitude now toward the recent treaty agreement is no surprise. In view of Russia's dilatory evacuation this attitude is only prudence. Russia's present stay seems to be a part of that blundering inertia which brought defeat upon her, for the czar's men seem to be doing nothing beyond hanging around. The Japanese are as restless and confident as ever, and conditions seem ripe for another clash, for which Russia is even more poorly prepared than she was before.

MEMORIAL DAY

be observed with the same sacredness that it is today.

"Hold High the Starry Banner." Once again "The boys are marching. Once again the sound of life and drum and the strains of brass music and the tramp, tramp, of feet resound through the streets. Once again the loved stars and stripes lead the column of old soldiers as it winds its way to the last resting place of the old comrades. Silently and reverently they place the flag and the wreath of nature's choicest flowers, dear remembrances of the day of enlistment, of the long weary march, of the evening camp fire, with its time for thought—how the loved ones at home came out of the shadows, and, although invisible, were so vitally present in these camp fire circles of comrades—and of the battle, with its fire and shell and cruelty and death. It may be that those who are left and whose sacred privilege it is to honor the dead today, will recall the dying faces of the very comrades whose graves are crowned with wreaths of flowers today.

At 9:30 o'clock a. m. the procession formed on North Second street, resting on North Park Place, in the following order:

- Police.
- Marshal.
- Staff.

Subterranean Convolutions.

Honolulu, May 30.—The schooner Lavinia, which has arrived from Laysan island, reports that the ocean at that vicinity is covered for many miles with a heavy coating of pumice stone. At Laysan island and on the French frigate shoals there were piles of pumice prior to the San Francisco earthquake. It is believed that there were some subterranean outbreaks, probably in connection with the Formosa earthquake. Captain Schlemmer of the Lavinia says that the shock of April 15 was felt on the island.

MARVELS OF STRENGTH

Teamster's Remarkable Exploit in Smashing Records.

SHOWED ASTONISHING AGILITY

William J. Liebeck, Who Wants to Be Chicago Policeman, Jumped Across a Table and Then Leaped Over It Lengthwise—Last Test, Which is Mental, the Crucial One.

Hitching his horses outside police headquarters in the city hall at Chicago the other day, William J. Liebeck, a teamster, in half an hour convinced a medical examination board that he is a perfect man, combining the beauty of an Adonis with the strength of an Atlas, says a Chicago special dispatch to the New York Press. Liebeck is a candidate for the star and "billy" of a Chicago policeman, but it is not at all certain that he will get the post. The final test is mental, and Liebeck's 100 per cent for physical prowess may yet go for naught.

He performed prodigies of strength, and at times the examiners feared he would wreck the testing apparatus. He almost blew off the top of the lung tester, registering a capacity of 360 cubic inches against the 250 cubic inches of the average man. When Liebeck expanded his chest the physicians around gazed at him in amazement. The man's normal chest measure is forty, and he swelled up until the tape stretched to forty-six inches. He said he could expand another inch, but the medical board ruled, in dry humor, that he had amply demonstrated his qualification in this respect. His mark of six inches was said by the physicians to be one of the largest on record.

Liebeck is twenty-seven years old and 5 feet 11 1/2 inches in height. He is of German parentage. In all tests save one he has given 100 per cent. His back lift was 320 pounds compared with the average of 200. In the leg tests he pulled 545 pounds, an even 200 above the records of all police examinations. He went through the most severe tests with two ten pound dumbbells caught in one hand against the six pounds in one dumbbell generally used. In every trial Liebeck went to an extraordinary point above the average. His lowest mark was in the traction pull, when he was only twelve pounds above the average.

It was thought when Liebeck was undergoing the strength tests that he would fall below the average in agility, but he displayed a nimbleness that was astonishing. One of the requirements was to jump on a table. Liebeck jumped across it, and then he leaped clean over it lengthwise. He turned somersaults with the precision of a trained acrobat.

Liebeck does not affect physical culture. When asked where he got his strength he said he "just grew." His daily work is in trucking for a big wholesale dry goods store. After he had been pronounced a "perfect man" he went out to his truck again and drove off.

"TOKALON" IS "BEAUTY."

Result of a Linguistic Discussion of Brooklyn Handicap Winner.

The victory of J. W. Fuller's mare Tokalon in the Brooklyn handicap recently started a lot of speculation about her name, says the New York Times.

"Where could such a name come from?" was a common question. An ordinary, garden, short cut linguist thought the name must have something to do with Tokay grapes. A real word student who was in the group suggested something better.

"Beyond a doubt," he said, "it is a Greek name. The first part is the article 'to' The second is 'kalon,' the neuter form of the word meaning 'beautiful.' The whole word literally means 'the beautiful thing,' but the real meaning is 'beauty.' From what I hear of the mare she deserves it."

No More Cowboy Police.

The rapid advance of Indian Territory towns from frontier centers of population to modern cities is shown by the changed aspect of the police in some of the leading municipalities, says the Kansas City Journal. The new administrations both in Tulsa and Muskogee have relegated the cartridge belt and cowboy hat formerly worn by the police to the plains where they belong, and have adopted the regulation blue uniform and club of city police. At Tulsa summer uniforms have been adopted for the force.

Chinatown Found Under Seattle.
An underground Chinese colony, similar to that which existed in San Francisco, has been discovered at Seattle, Wash., by city officials, says a Seattle dispatch. By burrowing under buildings, sidewalks and alleys the Chinese have excavated passageways to rooms for gambling and opium smoking. Many of the rooms are lighted by electricity. Some of the passageways extend for half a block or more and are many feet below subcellars and sidewalks.

Ominous News From Kentucky.

Thousands of the so-called seventeen year locusts are coming up from the ground and literally overrunning the land about Glasgow, Ky. Their wings bear figures like unto the letters "W. W.," says a Glasgow correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer. By the superstitions this is regarded as an omen of "want and war." It is further asserted that on the last appearance of the locusts, in 1839, their wings bore the letters "P. P.," betokening "peace and prosperity."

Stories About General V. S. Grant

By MARVIN R. WALTERS

(Copyright, 1906, by C. N. Lorie.)

THE greatness of Grant, like that of Lincoln, grows with time. The very simplicity and unassuming character of the two men tended to minimize them at close range. But these, perhaps, are among the chief qualities that will exalt them with future generations. They had much in common, and where they were unlike they supplemented each other.

Though they met but a few times each appreciated the other as deep answers to deep. They were easily the two chief figures of their era, and history will link their names together. If Lincoln may be called the modern Moses, there is equal excuse for referring to Ulysses S. Grant as the modern Joshua. Grant is almost universally recognized now as the ablest American general, but the day may come when his simple sentence, "Let us have peace," will lend more luster to his name than his greatest victory.

As a baby a loaded pistol was held to his hand, the first he had ever seen. His childish finger was pressed to the trigger. He neither winked nor whimpered at the succeeding report, but cried out: "Pick it again! Pick it again!"

While in the Army of the Potomac General Grant one day stopped amid a perfect rain of bullets, dismounted and took a wire from his horse's hoof which he had just noticed and feared might injure the animal, and this after the refusal of his brother-in-law, Colonel Dent, to perform the service because of their exposed position.

Grant's honesty is revealed nowhere more strikingly than during his straitened circumstances before the war. He had left St. Louis owing several months' rent, but soon sent back every cent, though only receiving a bookkeeper's wages at Galena. His generosity was shown while on the farm at Lardersburg. To an indigent neighbor woman he gave $5, though he said it was all he had in the world.

That General Grant had a keen sense of humor was frequently shown. Early in the war a Lieutenant Wickfield, in the advance guard of the army, stopped at a farmhouse, represented himself as General Grant and asked for something to eat. He was generously supplied, and he and his companions ate everything in the house but one pie. Later Grant himself stopped at the house and was told of what had happened. Giving the farmer's wife, whose name was Selvidge, a half dollar, the general asked her to keep that pie until he sent for it. That evening the entire army was asked to turn out in grand parade for orders. Thereupon the following was read in impressive style:

Headquarters Army in the Field, Special Orders No. —. Lieutenant Wickfield of the — Indiana cavalry, having on this day eaten everything in Mrs. Selvidge's house, at the crossing of the rivers, except one pumpkin pie, Lieutenant Wickfield is hereby ordered to return with an escort of 100 cavalry and eat that pie also.

U. S. GRANT, Brigadier General Commanding. One of Grant's officers, taking advantage of sick furlough to canvass for a congressional nomination, the general wrote this indorsement for an application for extended furlough:

If Colonel — is able to travel over his district to electioneer for congress he is able to be with his regiment, and he is hereby ordered to join it immediately or be dismissed from the service.

Before the surrender of Fort Donelson a council of war was held to decide whether or not an immediate attack should be made. Practically all the officers opposed it. Grant called in a prisoner just captured and found on him six days' rations. On questioning the man he found that like rations had been dealt out to all the other Confederate troops. He therefore decided that the enemy intended to evacuate and ordered the attack at once.

His historic GRANT TOOK A WIRE command after from his horse's first day at Shiloh furnishes a key to General Grant's character. It read: "Reform the lines and attack the enemy at daybreak."

Grant's courage was shown on a hundred fields. He exposed himself in the midst of flying shells and bullets, stood unmoved before bursting bombs and seemed unconscious of danger. Notwithstanding this he was never wounded, and the aids who accompanied him seemed to escape in almost a miraculous manner. This quality of bravery Grant displayed in the Mexican war. But there is one peace incident between the two conflicts that is little known. It occurred while Grant was at Galena. A dishonest trader had got a consignment of leather from Jesse R. Grant's store and seemed to be trying to avoid payment. Ulysses thereupon went to this trader's town, got a writ of replevin and went with a deputy sheriff to serve it. The trader barricaded himself behind a barred door, announced that he had a loaded shotgun and threatened death to any man who attempted to enter. Ulysses took a flying leap at the door, broke it in, captured the trader and secured the goods.

While a strict disciplinarian, he submitted to discipline as well as enforced it. There are many instances on record where he was turned back by private soldiers, and none of them suffered for doing their duty. Often they were commended or advanced. When president, Grant was arrested for fast driving. He not only paid the fine without a murmur, but interceded for the man who had arrested him.

On one occasion two waggish soldiers told a new recruit who wanted a bundle of clothes washed to go to a tent they pointed out and ask a short man with a brown beard smoking a cigar to attend to it. The man described, of course, was the commanding general. When the recruit appeared and asked to have his wash done, Grant showed no annoyance, but by a little questioning found out the state of the case, sent an orderly with the recruit to identify the two soldiers and had them confined in the guardhouse till they themselves had washed the clothes.

A most marked trait of the general was his love of truth. He was averse to talking about his war experiences, but whenever he heard a misstatement made became uneasy and could not refrain from correcting it.

His friends, knowing this fact, would often purposely make misstatements in order to draw him out. While usually a silent man, few men could talk more entertainingly when he was with congenial friends and the ice was broken. He would not listen to impure stories. When a companion started to introduce one with the preliminary apology, "There are no ladies present," he was cut short by the general, who said, "No, but there are gentlemen present."

His ability as a writer was shown by his military orders, his state papers and, most of all, by his "Memoirs." His "unconditional and immediate surrender," "I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer," "Let us have peace" and many other of his terse, meaty sentences have in them the quality of perennial life. His own story of the veto of the inflation bill is illuminative, whatever we may think of the merits or demerits of that measure. He had written an apologetic approval of the bill, being induced thereto by the arguments of party associates. After reading of this approval he said to himself: "That is not my real, honest opinion. I am not convinced of the rightfulness of this view. It is not sincere." He thereupon tore it in pieces and wrote a veto message.

Lincoln and Grant. "The first time it was my pleasure to meet Lincoln," General Horace Porter said recently, "he had summoned Grant to Washington to place him in command of the armies of the entire republic. Grant came into the room late, jostled by persons who thought themselves of great importance. Lincoln spied him at once, and, turning to Mrs. Lincoln, he exclaimed: 'There he is now. My dear, this is the man who is to end all our troubles.' They were a strange picture as they stood there side by side, Lincoln and Grant, the latter short of stature, his head bowed and in dusty garments, Lincoln towering above him, his great right hand clasping that of General Grant, talking to him as a father might to his son."

Engineer Stevens for Lock Canal. Washington, May 30.—"Although I have little time to look into political conditions in Panama, I do not think there is danger of any serious revolution on the isthmus of Panama." Chief Engineer Stevens of the isthmian canal commission said. Mr. Stevens, since his arrival in Washington, has been in conference with the members of the commission and appeared before the house committee on appropriations. Mr. Stevens urged the desirability of the lock type and made it plain that the commission should know at once what type is to be constructed.

Preacher a Bigamist. Chicago, May 30.—Almon Clarence Abel, formerly a prominent minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy and was sentenced to an indefinite term in the penitentiary. Abel was formerly pastor of the Hammond Avenue Methodist Episcopal church in this city and later was pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, one of the largest of its denomination in the city. To his second wife Abel was known as "Clair Clayton," and it was on complaint of her mother that he was arrested.

COULD WE LIVE 100 YEARS?

The Secret of Long Life Is Not in How We Eat, but in What We Eat.

Most people wouldn't want to exist for that length of time, but most of us want to live to, say, at least seventy-five years, to enjoy the well-earned rest of a life of toil.

We can't live even to that age unless we take care of our stomachs. The American has a longer life now than he had fifty years ago—statisticians say so, and it must be true.

Why is it? Not because he works harder, but because he takes greater care of his machine—his body machine.

He has learned that it is a sin to overwork and burn out the stomach with too much heat-producing material—meat, for instance.

Heat is not strength, it is weakness. Muscle and bone is the strength we need. The heat part will then come naturally, and never in excess. Let us not hunt for it.

The hot stomach makes the brain hot. The hot brain makes dullards of the quick.

Wheat! The purest wheat, the wheat with the starch, the albumen and the fibrin! This is the fighting material millions are buying today.

Wheat grains have a shell. The shell is not good to eat. You cannot digest it.

It makes the stomach work overtime.

But the purified wheat, the pearly grain from which the chaff, the hull and the husk, and everything not rich and delicious, is thrown out.

That is Hardyfood. Every part of it is consumed by the body and taken into the blood to make tissue.

It doesn't make clinkers but it will make you over.

It will give you a new stomach and clear out your kidneys. What will be the result? You will have better digestion, no constipation, full nutrition. You will endure hardship better because it will give you power and strength in muscle and brain force.

Your mind will be clear, active and healthy.

Hardyfood is cooked, ready to serve. Eat it with cream, you will find it delicious.

The stomach grabs at it, that is why it satisfies you.

Remember that Hardyfood has all the good that meat has, and three times more.

Meat has a small part of what wheat has, and three times less.

But you needn't stop eating meat altogether. A little now and then is useful. But cut down your allowance and try Hardyfood.

From the time you try your first package of Hardyfood, your history will begin.

Your grocer will sell you a package for 10 cents.

DECOYED BY A HANDSOME BLONDE

Were Victims of Ocean Gamblers, Who Cleared Up $10,000—Fake Wireless Telegrams.

New York, May 30.—Passengers aboard the steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm, which arrived yesterday, had a novel experience with a gang of card sharps, who had a woman as a decoy and used fake wireless telegraph messages as an adjunct to their scheme for fleecing those of the passengers whom they selected as victims. The gang is said to have cleared $10,000, before the ship's officers warned the passengers against them.

The gang, consisting of five men and one woman, boarded the ship at Cherbourg, and before she had been a day out the passengers began to fall prey to their wiles. Jean Bedin, who says he is a German theatrical manager lost $400 at dice. Marinus Goodhardt played bridge and lost $200. Besides the money was an "I. O. U." for $125 which bore Mr. Goodhardt's name.

When the gamblers had cleared up all they could with cards and dice, they bethought themselves of wireless telegraphy. One of the fake messages was as follows:

"New York.—Everything all right. Horses going well. Love to wife and child. Look out for Wall Street."

Other messages indicated that several of the races had been fixed and that the market was being "rigged."

The ringleader of the sharps represented himself as a wealthy mining man from Goldfields, Nev. He pretended that he was a friend of Chas. M. Schwab, and was to be his guest on an automobile tour of the United States.

The woman, slender rather attractive blonde, circulated among the passengers, got acquainted with the selected victim, and then proposed a game of cards. When the game was under way with a victim the other swindlers would join in.

C. J. Prousser, from the Philip James, says that he lost several thousand dollars. A Western man, who refused his name, said that he had also lost heavily.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Rheumatism, aches and pains, are caused from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidneys.

Kidney trouble causes quick or untended heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kimmel's Swamp-Root, the kidney remedy, is soon realized. It is the highest for its wonderful cures of all distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists and by mail for one dollar a bottle.

You may have a sample bottle free, also pamphlet sent out if you have kidney trouble. Mention this paper in writing Dr. Kimmel & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kimmel's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

FAMOUS GENERALS BORN IN LICKING

General W. S. Rosencrans and General Charles R. Woods Among County's Famous Men.

Licking county, though not as large and wealthy as many other counties in the state, is worthy of note as being the birthplace and home of three distinguished generals in the United States army, who became most prominent in the Civil war and prominent in various ways after the close of the war.

General W. S. Rosencrans, a son of Crandall Rosencrans, was brought up near the little village of Homer, Licking county, where he spent many years of his youth and also clerked in a store in the neighboring village of Utrca. His brother, Bishop Rosencrans, who was born at the same place, became a distinguished prelate in the Roman Catholic church.

The famous Seventy-sixth regiment O. V. I. was raised principally in Licking county, and its three principal officers, colonel, lieutenant colonel and major, became distinguished generals in the civil war, and were prominent in civil life after the close of the war.

Colonel Charles R. Woods, Colonel of the Seventy-sixth regiment, O. V. I., became a Major General in the United States army. Major Willard Warner, who was a brother-in-law of General Woods, became a United States Senator from Alabama after the close of the war, and Lieutenant Colonel William B. Woods, a brother of General Charles R. Woods, became a Justice of the United States Supreme court. In this connection it might be added that William Tecumseh Sherman and General Phil Sheridan were both born just over the line outside of Licking county, the former in Fairfield county and the latter in Perry county. There is no section of country in Ohio or perhaps in the United States that contributed so many great generals to the Civil war as did this section of Licking, Perry and Fairfield counties, which could be inscribed within a radius of 25 miles.

TURBULENT Session of the Tennessee Democratic Convention.

Nashville, Tenn., May 30.—The state Democratic convention, which met here to nominate candidates for governor and railroad commissioners, recessed without having even effected temporary organization. It was decidedly the most turbulent body of the kind ever assembled in Tennessee. Pandemonium and free fighting were the rule and it was with the utmost difficulty that any sort of record of the proceedings could be made. Adjournment was had after an understanding was reached between leaders of opposing factions that the three gubernatorial candidates, Governor John I. Cox, Congressman Malcolm R. Patterson and Judge John R. Bond, each name four representatives who shall constitute a committee to decide on a temporary chairman. Before this agreement was effected the battle over contested delegations occupied the entire time of the convention, which is the largest in the history of Tennessee politics. Many counties are contested and the vast Ryman auditorium, where the convention sat, was taxed to its utmost capacity. The services of the police were necessary from the outset.

SCANDALOUS Governor Higgins Pronounces the Delay in the Patrick Case.

Albany, N. Y., May 30.—"Little less than scandalous" is the phrase used by Governor Higgins in a veto memorandum issued regarding "the law's delay" in the case of Albert T. Patrick, convicted of the murder of the aged millionaire, William M. Rice, in New York city in 1900. The governor's veto was introduced by Assemblyman Wade of Chautauque to amend the code of criminal procedure so as to permit an appeal from an order denying a motion for a new trial in a criminal case on the ground of newly discovered evidence.

Recorder Goff, before whom Patrick was originally tried, has now under consideration such a motion for a new trial for Patrick and Governor Higgins has relieved the condemned lawyer for a third time until June 18.

Wedding Guests Arrive.

Madrid, May 30.—The preparations for the marriage of King Alfonso and Princess Ena are fast approaching, culmination with the arrival of foreign princes and envoys, the influx of vast throngs and the final adornment of streets and buildings. Such a spectacle of splendor has seldom been seen as when the princess coming to the wedding arrived in the city. Trumpet blasts greeted the prince of Wales and Archduke Francis Ferdinand. The former wore the uniform of a British general. There was another shower of uniforms and dresses as the royal representatives of Germany, Russia and Greece arrived with their suites. Later there was a brilliant parade and all the princes and princesses with their retinues proceeded to the Prado palace, where King Alfonso and Princess Victoria received them.

Newark won from Zanesville at Wehrle Park this morning by a score of 5 to 2.

The features of the game were the general all round work of Pitcher Linke who not only pitched in superb form, but also clinched his own game by a timely single after Boyd had gotten a base on balls. This erratic work of Zanesville's crack twirler was followed by a two bagger by Danny Davis.

Snodgrass also started, getting a long triple and catching a great game.

They Ate Fish.
Tuesday was an off day in the O. P. league and the Newark players took advantage of it. President Moser and other officials of the local baseball company together with a number of the players went to Bruno-on-the-Lake, where the afternoon was spent fishing. At supper time the players and officials seated themselves before a bountiful supply of the finest cooked fish ever served to a ball player. The way the players went for the fish is good enough evidence that they will win the game at Wehrle park this morning.

Zanesville's View Of It.

Here's the inside of that Hardesty deal over at New Castle some few days ago, says the Zanesville T-H. Hardesty, it will be recalled, umpired a game or two at Newark last year. He hadn't any love for the Moguls and didn't make any bones about saying so. Said he to Stetler of New Castle, the day that Zanesville appeared there a week ago: "I know this Zanesville bunch. I told them last year that I would be able to get them this season, and I'm going to do it." He reckoned Stetler would enter into such a plan. But not for Stetler. Guess Hardesty's horrible work is a sample of what he really is.

Wilhelm Has Record.

Kaiser Wilhelm is rapidly gathering together a pretty bunch of scant hits and, in fact, comes as near having the record as any pitcher in the league. He holds the palm for having let an opposing team down with but one hit. That was New Castle, and the occasion was Sunday, April 29. "Lefty" as a brace of three-hit games, and also a pair of four-hit affairs. Lancaster and Sharon were his victims in the three-hit affairs and New Castle and Sharon in the four-hit ones.

Akron's Great Find.

Akron seems to have made the greatest "find" among young players spending their first season in the O. P. league. Shortstop Butler of that club is one of the best in the league and is the youngest man playing professional ball in the country. He is only 18 years old. Butler was tried at first but did not make good there. Then he was shifted to short, where he played a phenomenal game last week. Besides fielding well he is doing his share of the hitting. Butler lacks the polish of an old, experienced player, but he has the ability to get to the ball and throw it, and is developing every day he plays.

Manager East last week signed Dick Nailin of the Johnstown Tristate team. Nailin played his first game at Youngstown Wednesday. He was used at first base. He fielded well and hit hard. Of course he lacked condition, as he had been out of the game several weeks, but he gave evidence of becoming a first rate player. Nailin is a big fellow, well built and fast. He plays either first base or the outfield. If Schwartz is unable to get back into condition East will continue using Nailin at first.

Morton and the Umps.

The umpire question is still a troublesome one. President Morton apparently has found three good men in Wise, Berry and Lavelle, but the fourth position has proved most difficult to fill. Tom Bannon started in

ENGLAND'S NEW AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPION.

James Robb.

Great Britain's amateur golf championship resulted in a victory for James Robb, who defeated C. C. Lengon by 4 up and 3 to play in a 26 hole final round. Rain fell during the greater part of the contest. The tournament was a succession of surprises.

It, and lasted only a short while. Then Scott Hardesty took a try. He went three games and quit. Then came Harry Black of New Castle, and brother-in-law to Manager Frank Yoho. After he worked two days even Yoho informed President Morton that Black was without ability. Then Eugene Wright, ex-ball player, was signed. Wright does not seem to be any improvement over the others. Even when he worked in Akron the players there commented on his lack of ability. The same was true in Youngstown. Jack Rafferty of the Tristate league may be signed. He is a good man and umpired to the satisfaction of everyone in that league. The O. P. umpires are clothed with enough authority to enforce the rules and prevent kicking. President Morton has instructed his men to enforce the rules, and he is backed by every manager and club owner on the circuit. The umpire situation, which threatened to become serious at one time, now gives promise of adjusting itself—Exchange.

Good Imagination.

The retirement of George ("Cotton") Bates as manager at Newark was not unexpected. Bates has had a lot of trouble since the first day he went to that town. In the first place

GOVERNOR

Prevents the Fitz-Burns Engagement, Which is Postponed.

Philadelphia, May 30.—The 20-round fight between Fitzsimmons and Burns, which was to have taken place Tuesday night before the Tuxedo Athletic club at North Essington, has been postponed until Wednesday of next week as a result of the order issued by the governor of Pennsylvania to the state constabulary to prevent the bout. The officials of the club will at once take legal action with a view of holding the fight on the new date.

Pugs in Court.

New York, May 30.—Terry McGovern and James Britt, together with 16 other men, arrested after a 10-round fight between Britt and McGovern, were in police court charged with violating a section of the penal code, which regulates prize fights. At the request of counsel for the prisoners the court granted an adjournment until Thursday and continued the bail of $500 each.

COLOR

Of One of the Prize Pupils, Caused Trouble Between Teacher and Education Board.

Springfield, May 30.—A colored girl named Jennie Carter is the cause of trouble between the Board of Education of New Carlisle, O., and Superintendent Teach, of the public school. It is claimed the board wants Jennie to take her diploma on the quiet and not appear at the graduating exercises. Teach said he did not see how she could be prevented from participating. The board held executive sessions two days and finally notified him he would not be needed next term.

A petition signed by 200 citizens was presented, but the board refused to reconsider its action. It is claimed that the Carter girl would have taken first honors.

The trouble started when Miss Carter was invited to a reception given by the pupils for Prof. Teach. The parents of several of the pupils were displeased, and this started the protest against her appearance at the commencement.

There are four colored pupils to graduate next year.

BARRICADE

Forced the Autoist to Stop and Three Highwaymen Went Through Their Pockets.

Butler Pa., May 30.—An automobile party consisting of George J. Bankart and wife of Pittsburg, and Harry F. Smith and wife of Cleveland, O., was held up and robbed by three masked men on the outskirts of this place. The party had traveled from Pittsburg to New Castle and was returning via Butler.

As they were starting down a long hill coming into town their searchlight revealed a barricade of fence rails across the road, forcing them to stop. They had no sooner done so than three men jumped into the automobile and went through their clothing, at points of revolvers, securing $200 in money, two gold watches and one diamond ring. They were then ordered to proceed at top speed and the robbers made off.

SPANISH ROYAL BRIDAL COUPLE AND THRONE WHERE NEW QUEEN WILL BE CROWNED TOMORROW.

Ever since the auspicious visit paid by the young King Alfonso to London last year it was believed that a match with an English Princess was contemplated, and later events placed the matter beyond doubt. Interesting young royalties cannot keep their love affairs a secret, even if they wished to do so, and here there was no wish for no pretence. It was plain enough for a long time that there was an understanding between Princess Ima and King Alfonso, and this soon resulted in an engagement, sealed with the consent of King Edward, the Princess and the head of her family. Only one objection was raised in Spain must be a Roman Catholic, but will be married to King Alfonso on England, and that was the religious, they were overruled, the Princess was

FIRE DESTROYS BIG ELEVATOR

Million Dollars Lost and Several Persons More or Less Seriously Injured.

Chicago, May 30.—A representative of Armour's places their loss at $1,250,000. The Electric company lost about $30,000 in this morning's fire here.

Chicago, May 30.—Fire early this morning completely destroyed the elevator "D" of the Armour & Company. The fire was caused by spontaneous combustion in the grain. The fire spread a good headway before discovered by Charles Sinkule, fireman for the elevator, who was badly burned. The fire spread to the enormous plant of the Commonwealth Electric company, and this morning the firemen are still fighting the fire there and in the Spry lumber yards nearby.

More than a score of engines and fire companies, and all the fire boats are at work. Fire Marshal McDonough estimates the loss will reach $1,000,000. The elevator is said to have contained 1,000,000 bushels of wheat, oats and corn.

John Tihia, Joseph Polecek and Emil Zontak, laborers, were badly burned.

C. N. Bury, railway switchman, in attempting to get a string of cars away from the elevator, is believed to have been killed. Several firemen narrowly escaped death under a fall of walls.

The fire is under control at nine o'clock. The fire chief said no more damage was anticipated.

CENTRISTS UNITE WITH SOCIALISTS

Berlin, May 30.—The leaders of the Centrist or Catholic party allow it to be understood that they have united with the Socialists of the reichstag to defeat the government's proposal to create a colonial ministry because Prince Ernest of Hohenzollern-Mangenburg, now director of the colonial office, was Emperor William's choice for minister of the colonies. Herr Bachem, Dr. Spah and Herr Groeber, Centrist leaders, informed Chancellor Von Buelow two months ago that they disapproved of Prince Hohenzollern-Mangenburg for cabinet rank because of his anti-Jesuit proceedings while regent of Coburg-Gotha.

TO OVERTHROW GOVERNMENT

One Detachment of Revolutionists, After Taking a City, Is Forced to Retire Before Superior Forces. Country Said to Be in Sympathy With the Invaders.

Mexico City, May 30.—The revolution in Guatemala is the most widespread of any in the history of that country. Foreign planters have been waiting for months for General Barillas to act. Practically all of the general interests and many of the best natives support the revolution. Frequent abuse of power are charged to the government.

General Castillo, commanding a detachment of revolutionists, after taking the city of Ocos, was forced to retire before superior forces. Castillo is now reported to have taken a new base and will be reinforced by several hundred good fighting men from the steamer Empire City. General Barillas is in the mountains making his way to Quezaltenango. Barillas has with him a fine body of picked men, and is reported to be steadily recruiting his force. No news has been received here from Salvador, but the invading force should by this time be well advanced into Guatemala. Resident Guatemalans here state that the whole country is ripe for the overthrow of President Cabrera. The season of rains has set in and the roads are bad in Guatemala.

News from the Guatemalan frontier will be somewhat interrupted owing to the revolutionists having cut the wires, but messengers on horseback will be dispatched from Ocos, where General Castillo has his forces, and from the flying column of General Barillas, who is pushing on to the important city of Quezaltenango with 40,000 inhabitants. This city is likely to be occupied by General Barillas this week. He is immensely popular in that region.

SIMPLICITY IN OUR FUTURE PLAYS

New York, May 30.—Mr. E. H. Sothern speaking of simplicity in our future plays said today:

"I am quite sure that extravagance in stage productions is on the wane, and the public no longer demands the expensive and elaborate scenery with which it has become familiar in the last fifteen years. It has been surfeited.

E. H. SOTHERN.

Believe me, simplicity will be the keynote of future plays.

"With the immense scenic investigations now in vogue, it requires a trainload of cars to carry a few productions about the country and the expense entailed is enormous. Better less elaborate scenery and more plays. And, after all, the play is the thing, not the scenery, and it is no compliment to an actor to feel that an audience has been beguiled to the theatre with possibly an even greater desire to witness a sumptuous production than to study his acting."

Police Court.

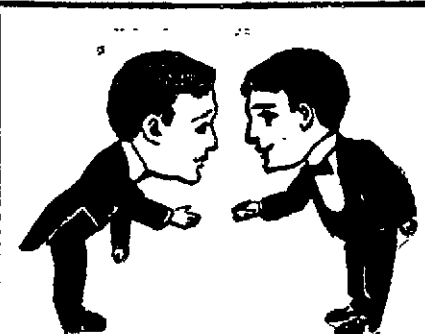

Three Hungarians giving their names as Joe Bartick, Mike Bacha and Joe Bacha, were arrested Tuesday night shortly after 10 o'clock by Officers Daily, McClure and Moore, and charged at the city prison with distributing poison at Mike Buckstar's place, 278 Wilson street. Several dogs there have been poisoned and have died. An attempt has been made to poison the horse owned by the saloonist. A piece of poisoned meat was found in the yard back of the saloon yesterday afternoon and this resulted in the arrest of the three foreigners. The case will come up for trial either this morning or Thursday morning.

The case against Alfred Kimball, charged with assault by Pearl Boyles was continued in police court Tuesday afternoon until Thursday morning. A number of witnesses remain to be examined.

PRINCESS' DOWRY.

London, May 30.—The text of the marriage treaty between King Alfonso and Princess Ena was issued this morning. It provides that the king shall give the queen an annual grant of 450,000 pesetas. Should she become a widow she will receive 650,000 pesetas annually. The queen renounces all rights of succession to the British throne.

MONDAY TALKS GAVE FINE PLAY

In Which Local Talent Delicately Many of Shakespeare's Most Famous Characters.

The seventh annual play of the Monday Talks given last night at Taylor Hall under the direction of Miss Florence King was a social as well as an artistic success of the highest order. The audience was one of the most representative of Newark's culture and evinced its appreciation of the humor of the situations as well as the clever satire of the lives. The play was well adapted to the requirements of amateur dramatics, being a travesty on a number of Shakespeare's famous heroes and heroines. "The Shakespeare Water-Cure" by name, gives some hint of the possibilities of the situations. There are present the "melancholy Dane," Romeo, Shylock, Macbeth, Othello, Ghost, Lady Macbeth, Ophelia, Portia, and Juliet, and into the mouths of these, some of Shakespeare's most famous lines take on a facetiousness unimagined by that immortal bard.

Lady Macbeth, as impersonated by Miss Florence King, was certainly the power behind the throne, and the scenes in which she and her liege lord, the manly (?) Macbeth, appeared were ludicrous beyond description. The make-up of Macbeth left nothing to be desired and in his acting of the part, Mr. Harold Kemp put many professional comedians to shame.

Mr. Walter Hall was an admirable Shylock, giving his lines with truly dramatic power and especially effective in the number of songs his part required. As the lover and later the husband of the widowed Portia, he gave a most original reading of the part.

Mr. Howard Jones was the "melancholy Dane" to perfection, and while intended as a travesty upon the part, there were moments when Mr. Jones was almost the true Hamlet. His well modulated voice lent itself not only to the lines but his songs were highly effective.

Mr. Edward King's histrionic ability has been attested in amateur dramatics on a number of previous occasions, but nothing he has ever done has given greater scope to his powers. Romeo, the strolling actor, was a character to rouse one's risibilities and his rendition of Mark Anthony's funeral oration, with modern embellishments, was indescribably mirth-provoking. Only the fear of losing some of the subtleties of the lines restrained the audience from outbursts of applause. He also impersonated the Ghost in the most realistic manner.

Miss Ruth Speer as Portia, carried out the idea of justice, purity, and right. She looked her part, and maintained a grave dignity which nothing could shake.

Ophelia, the sweetest and most pathetic of Shakespeare's women, was performed in a beautiful manner by Mrs. Fred Seymour. She portrayed the sweet simplicity and ingenuous girliness of Ophelia excellently well.

Juliet, the immortal, the idealized of lovers, as represented by Miss Ida Moore, was a rude awakening, from the blissful state of love making to the stern realities of wedded life. But, for all, in Ida Moore we still loved Juliet. Her charm was indisputable.

Poor Othello, was perhaps the most distorted of all the characters, bearing not a semblance to the noble Moor. In name and color alone was the resemblance clear. Mr. Norton Beecher, as Othello, forced by stress of circumstances to become a waiter at "The Shakespeare Water-Cure," was just as funny as the occasion required, and won for himself much applause.

Mrs. Edward King played the incidental music and accompaniments to the songs most effectively.

While the performance had been heralded as amateur, the rendition of it belied its name, for it is the unanimous opinion of all that professionals could not have improved upon the situation. To Miss Florence King unlimited praise must be given, not only for her rendition of her own character but for the excellent ensemble which was due to her skill and painstaking.

ROCKEFELLER TO EUROPE.

New York, May 30.—John D. Rockefeller is today preparing for his departure for Europe tomorrow with a party of three and two servants. Mr. Rockefeller doubtless felt it incumbent on him to exercise a certain degree of economy in engaging passage on the steamer. The Deutschland has for "chambers de luxe" for which persons who are "real rich" pay an extra amount for passage. Mr. Rockefeller has not engaged any of them. Three staterooms and berths for two servants were engaged. Mr. Rockefeller and his wife will have a room on the starboard side of the upper deck. There are two decks more "upper" than they use. It is a comfortable outside room and will cost over $700 for it plus whatever it is the richest man's custom to give in tips.

Sackett Plaster Board

I desire to call the attention of all architects, contractors and builders to the Sackett Plaster Board. It takes the place of wood or metal lath. It is not a new thing, but has been in use for fifteen years in some of the largest cities.

One of the great advantages of the board is that it is a non-conductor of sound, as well as being fire proof. It makes houses warmer in winter and cooler in summer. I have the agency for this board and am prepared to furnish it in small amounts or carload lots. For full particulars call on or address,
